O&O DiskImage start page. The monitoring feature warns you of any security risks.

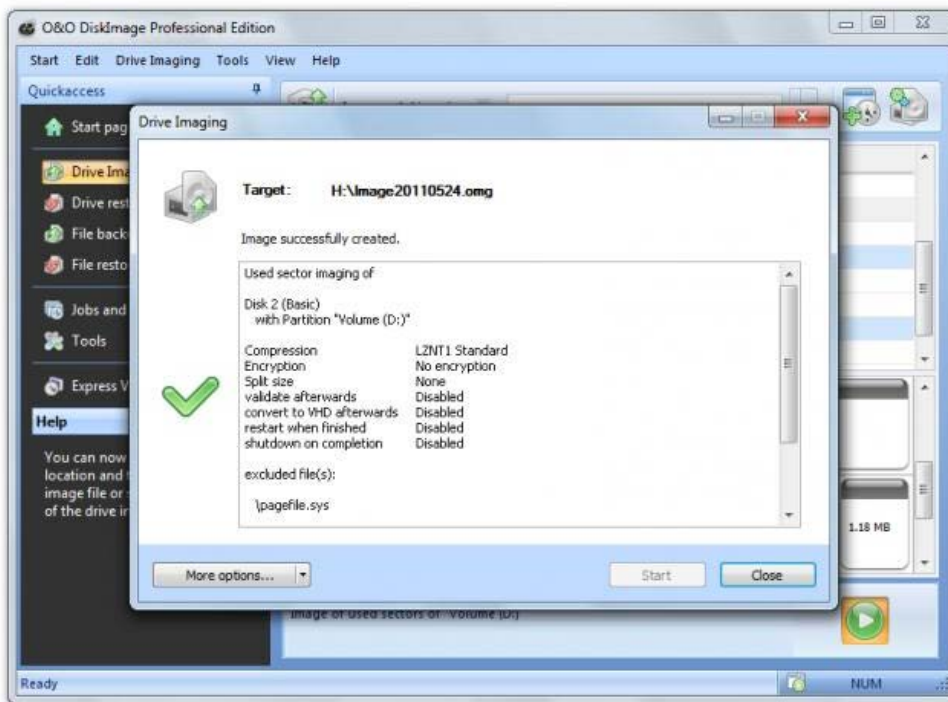

One-click imaging will create an image of your entire hard disk.

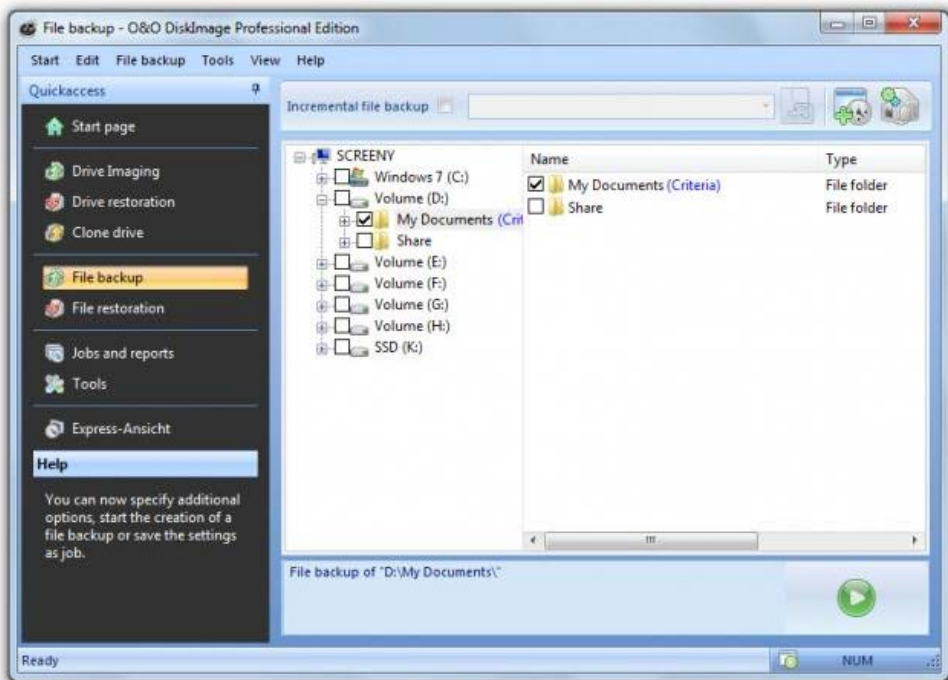

You can also create an image of individual drives. To do this, select the one or more you want.

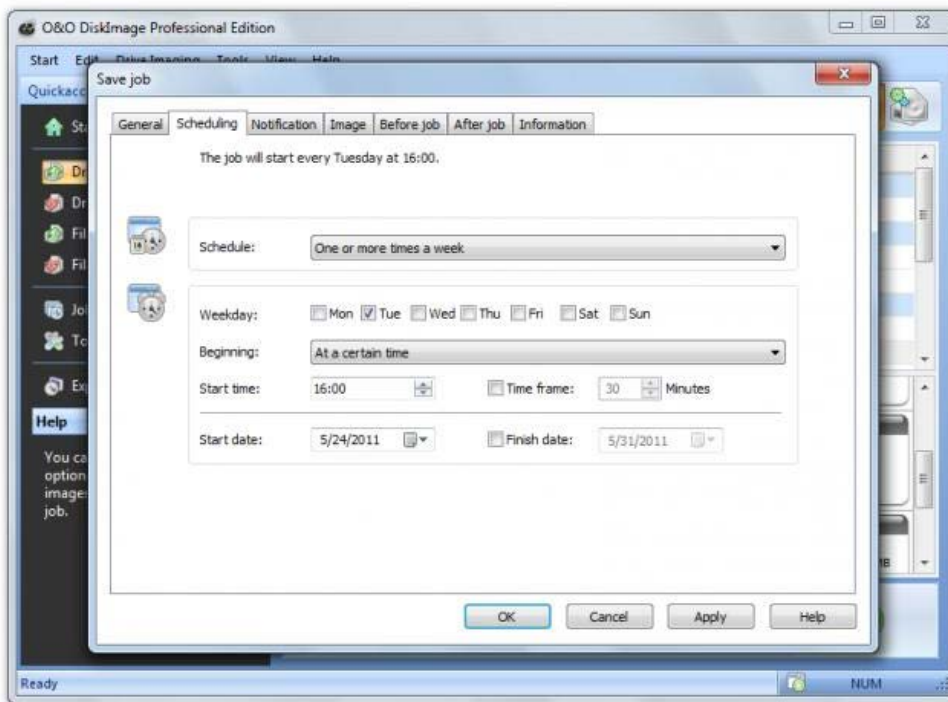

If you're working on a drive while it's being imaged, the changes you make will be saved in the snapshot cache so that no data is ever lost.

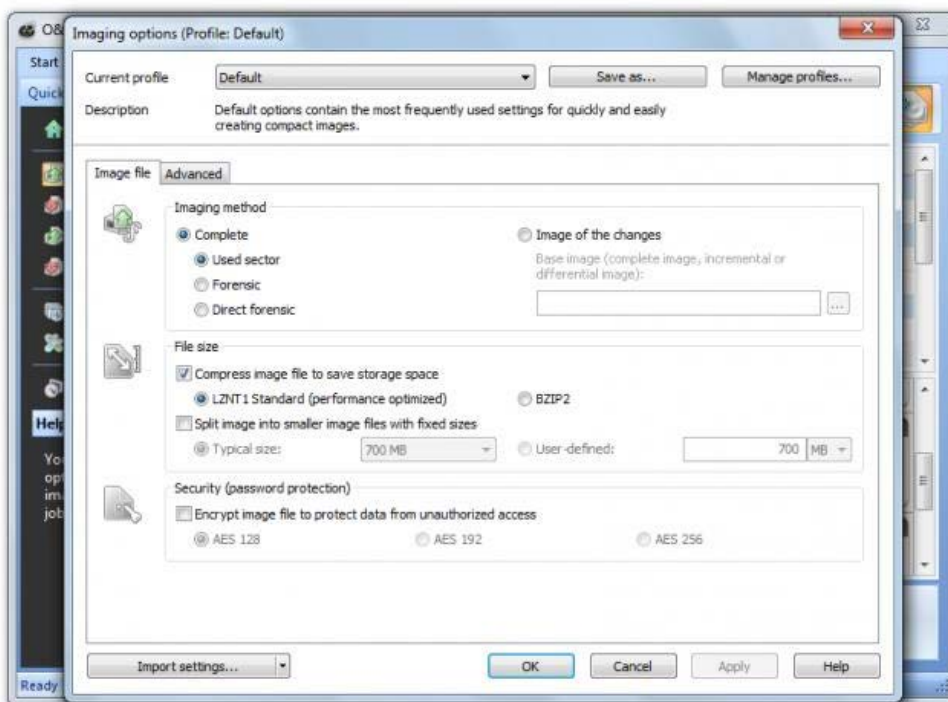

Once completed, you'll receive notice that the imaging was successful.

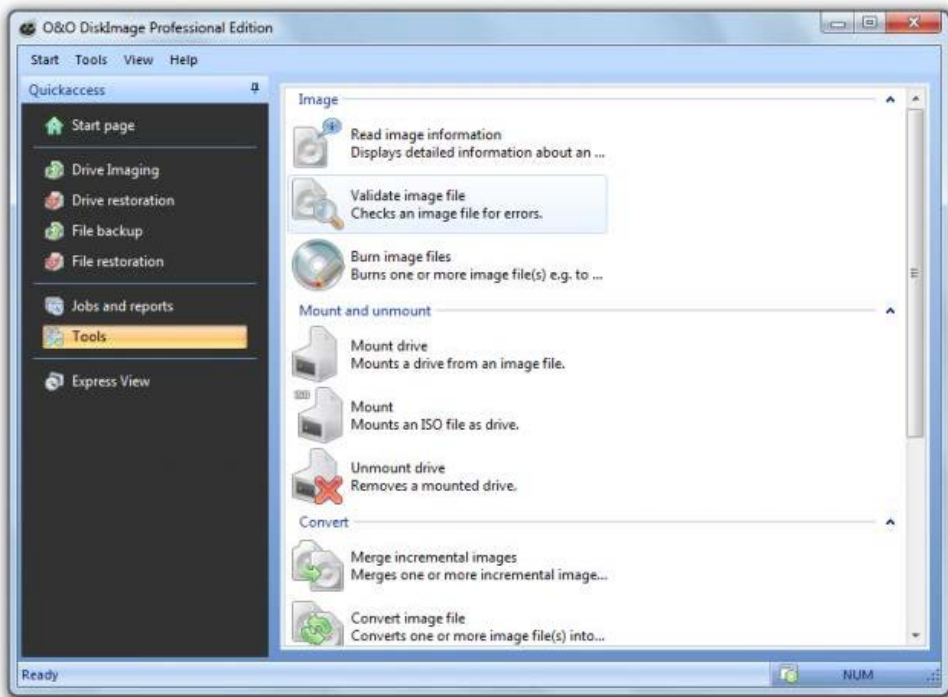

It's also possible to backup individual files and folders.

You can also have backups made automatically at regular intervals.

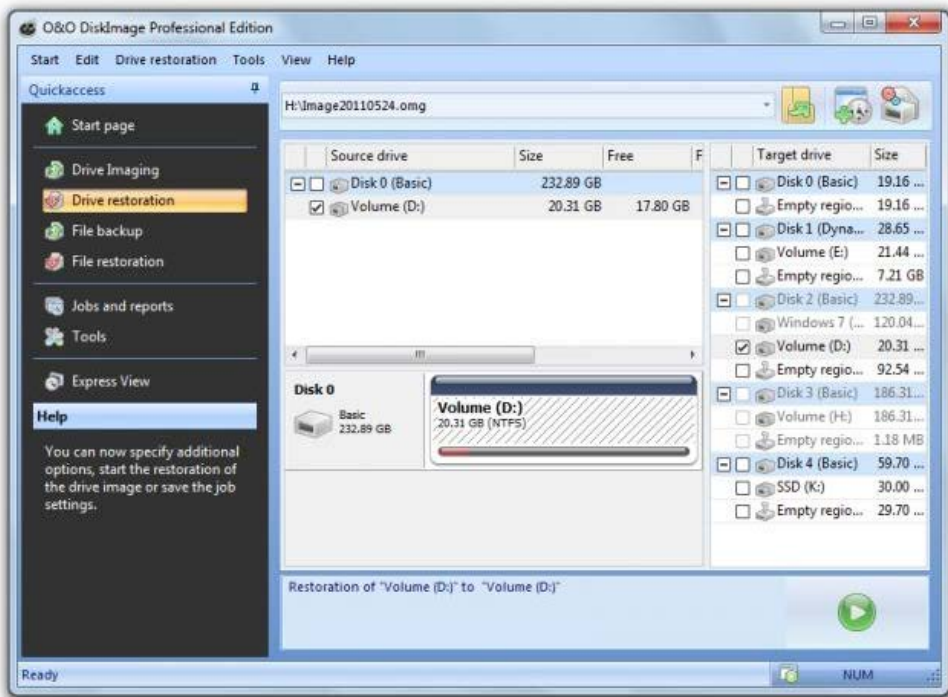

Under Imaging options, you can change the imaging method, compression, and encryption.

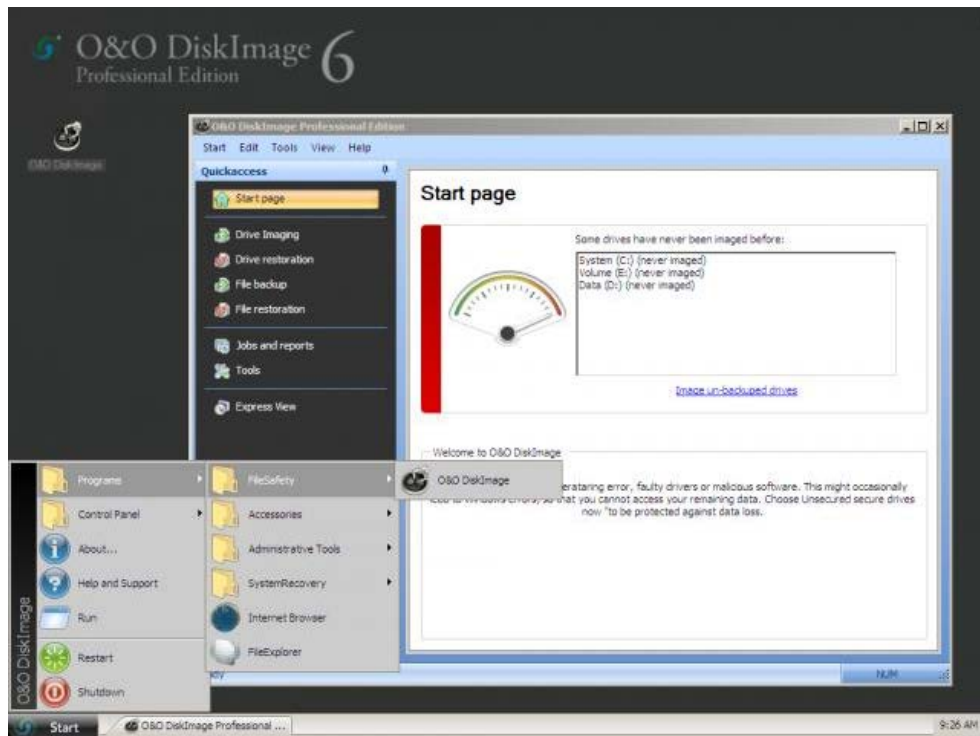

Under Tools you'll find additional features of O&O DiskImage.

Images you create (*.img) can also be burnt onto CD/DVD/Blu-Ray or mounted as an ISO file.

During restoration, you'll have to indicate a region of the hard disk where the drives from the image should be assigned.

If you're starting O&O DiskImage directly from a CD, you'll be able to, among other things, restore the image of a computer's operating system.
